

Review Letgo

letgo

The best way to sell or buy second-hand products. Letgo is a virtual platform where security is one of the central aspects to provide you with an agile and safe experience. Search for offers near you, and contact registered and verified users

There is no doubt that technology has come to change our routines and make lives easier. Our daily habits have changed and everything is easier thanks to the advancement of the digital age. Mobile phones are one of the devices that help us the most and this is done through comfortable and elaborate free apps that have different functions. Whether it is paying the electricity, water or gas bill, making a purchase from the supermarket, studying a university degree online, reading the latest news of today or facilitating the processes of buying and selling products online, the world of applications is very big. Among the best options for exchanging products with other people near you is letgo.

Letgo was born in January 2015 and it spread very quickly in its number of users and coverage area. The app can be downloaded for free on mobile phones that have Android and iOS operating systems. It also has its official site for computers where you can carry out all the purchase and sale of products.

Using letgo is very easy and will help you to get rid of those objects that you no longer use or to get that precious thing that you cannot find in large stores or shops. The platform is exclusively dedicated to second-hand objects. This is very important because it will allow you to find unusual objects, unpublished editions, products at good prices and endless possibilities. Also, if you start looking through your things, you will surely find clothes, furniture, video games, records or movies to sell that will help your economy.

Among the advantages of letgo, one of the main ones that can be highlighted is the speed with which the tool works. In just a matter of seconds your article will be published and available for anyone close to you to buy it. The app has an intelligent image recognition system that recognizes the product easily and quickly. With this you will have the possibility to add convenient labels and titles to the object you want to sell.

You can also find all the functions you need within the platform. For example, with the comfortable navigator and map you can buy and sell online near you. You won't have to stray too far to complete the transaction. The same happens with the message exchange system, which you can do within the program without leaving it. It is always very important that people maintain good communication during these types of situations, without providing sensitive or very important data, but information that is relevant to carry out the negotiation.

Once you are registered, you can choose in which category you want to search for the products that interest you. In addition to applying filters by price and distance from where you are, you can search for objects in specific cities and regions.

The sections available in letgo are very wide and surely you can buy or sell what you want. Options include electronics, sports and recreation, automobiles, motorcycles, home and garden, fashion and accessories, babies and children, jobs and services, movies and books, sundries, and free items. As we can see, the offer is wide and varied.

Safety in letgo is very important and one of the aspects that its creators have sought to take care of the most. In order to offer an experience that does not bring you problems, all user profiles are verified, controlled and you can find out who you are negotiating with. You can also leave reviews of how the experience was with the person who made the transaction. In case the program detects any type of suspicious or aggressive activity in a profile, the user is blocked. Whenever you are looking to use letgo, check the information of the person you are talking to well. See if he made other sales before, if he has reviews or not and tries to make the exchange in open and crowded places.

Letgo is one of those apps that makes things much easier for us if we use it conscientiously and responsibly. It is a very good proposal to organize your home and your economy. Search for everything you want or sell those objects that you no longer use with this useful tool.

| Pros                                                                                                                                                   | Cons                                                                                                                                                                                                    |
|--------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Free download</li><li>- Verified profiles</li><li>- Chat integrated in the app</li><li>- Good offers</li></ul> | <ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>- Not available everywhere</li><li>- Problems with operation</li><li>- The images do not bear the price of the product</li><li>- Problems unsubscribing</li></ul> |

Links Facebook:

Twitter:

Instagram:

Web: <https://www.letgo.com/>

Play Store:

<https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.abtnprojects.ambatana&hl=es&showAllReviews=truev>

Apple Store: <https://apps.apple.com/es/app/letgo-compra-y-vende-2%C2%AA-mano/id986339882>