

Review PUBG Game

Tencent Games

PUBG MOBILE is Tencent Games' mobile adaptation of one of its most popular titles. With games of about 30 minutes, the objective is to survive in an online battle of 100 players fighting against each other to be the only one alive at the end of the game.

PlayerUnknown's Battlegrounds Mobile, or better known as PUBG MOBILE, is the optimized adaptation of one of the most popular Battle Royale genre. Launched in 2017 by Tencent Games, it became one of the most downloaded games of the year, this made the company to bet on this type of applications and have constant updates to continue improving the user experience.

PUBG MOBILE is an online game, so an internet connection will be essential to play. It is available on the Google Play Store and the Apple Store, although it is not compatible with all phones. Android must have 2GB of available RAM and about 900 megabytes of free space, and have a version 4.3 of the Google system. In Apple it is a little less what it occupies and is compatible with version 9.0 of iOS. It is the heaviest game in the entire catalog, making its graphics on some devices not fully appreciated.

Like its older brother, in PUBG MOBILE the mission is to survive in an online battle against all in which you have nothing to defend yourself with and your main objective is to go looking for weapons to get to live with battles of up to 100 players in a space that is shrinking. If yours is not losing, maybe you should lean towards other games or train a lot to become a winner within PUBG MOBILE.

PUBG MOBILE is a free download application, but it has a series of rewards that help you earn coins to overcome a series of challenges that will make the combat less cumbersome, such as the possibility of buying clothes and not having to go looking for it in the field of battle while attacked by other players.

Each game lasts about 30 minutes depending on how skillful you are, if you manage to stay on your feet, if this is not the case you can end your game from the moment you land. Because this is how the battle begins in PUBG MOBILE, parachuted at a specific point on an island that will decrease with the passage of time, another handicap on the way, which forces you to be closer to each other and not have space to defend yourself until the moment of the final fight comes in which is a deadly face to face.

A characteristic is that if at the moment the field is reduced you are not in the area that remains, it will gradually take life, the smaller the battlefield, the faster it will take life, so it is important to be in the marked strip especially at the end of the game, because you will lose your life quickly.

PUBG MOBILE has three maps: Erangel, Miramar and Sanhok. Erangel is the original PUBG MOBILE map, based on a Russian military base, it is a rural region where most players are concentrated. Miramar is a desert, located in Mexico, and its fort is based on the difficulty of finding rewards in such open areas. Finally, Sanhok is the place with the most action, set in Thailand, it is full of weapons and is the ideal map for those who are looking for pure action.

PUBG MOBILE has several game modes: the main one is the classic one, in which you can play on the three maps and individually, in pairs or in a squad of four people, which as their own names indicate depends on whether you feel prepared to face the fight alone or with company. For beginners we find the most basic mode, that of training, which as its own indicates helps improve technique. And for the most daring there is the war mode, where you can make quick games in which it reappears without stopping throughout the game. Each one is different from the others and has its own peculiarities.

The controls in PUBG MOBILE adapt to the screen of the devices, being fully customizable, from the handling of weapons to how to drive a vehicle, making it easy for the user.

PUBG MOBILE has managed to adapt its original game for all budgets, notably maintaining action and adrenaline in its battles.
